PSALM I.

Rochel Tune. Pag. I, II.

- 1 THE Man is blest that hath not to ill advice his Ear ; (bent Nor led his Life as Sinners do, nor sat in Scorner's Chair :
- 2 But in the Law of God the Lord
doth set his whole Delight ;
And in that Law doth exercise himself both Day and Night.
- 3 He shall be like the Tree that grows
the River's side close by :
Which bringeth forth its crop of Fruit,
And that most seas'nably.
- 4 Whose leaf shall never fade nor fall,
but flourish still and stand ;
Ev'n so shall all things prosper well,
that this man takes in hand.

PSALM

P S A L M IV.

London Tune. Pag. III.

- 1 O God thou art my Righteousness,
Lord hear me when I cry :
Thou me at liberty hast set,
from bonds and misery.
- 2 Have mercy therefore, Lord, on me,
And grant me my request :
For unto thee incessantly,
to cry I will not rest.
- 3 O mortal men, how long will ye
my Glory thus despise ?
Why wander ye in vanity,
and follow after lies ?
- 4 Know ye that good and godly men
the Lord doth take and chuse :
And when to him I make complaint,
he doth me not refuse.

P S A L M VIII.

St. David's Tune. Pag. IV.

- 1 O Lord, our God, how wonderfull
is every where thy Name:
Thy glory thou hast set above,
the Heav'ns curious Frame.
- 2 Even by the mouths of sucking Babes,
thou wilt confound thy Foes:
For in those Babes thy might is seen,
thy Graces they disclose.
- 3 And when I see the Heavens high,
the works of thine own hand:
The Sun, the Moon, and all the Stars,
in order as they stand.
- 4 Lord, what is man, think I, to have in thy kind thoughts a place!
Why dost thou thus advance, and bless his miserable Race?

P S A L M IX.

Exeter Tune. Pag. V.

- 1 With heart and mouth unto the Lord will I give laud and praise:
And speak of all his wond'rous works,
and them declare always.
- 2 I will be glad and much rejoyce
in thee, O God, most high,
And make my songs extoll thy name
above the starry sky.
- 3 Because my foes were driven back,
and turned unto flight:
They fell down flat and were destroy'd by thy great pow'r and might.
- 4 Thou hast maintain'd my right, and shewn
how true and just it was:
And from thy seat of judgment hast determined my cause.

PSALM XV.

Martyr's Tune. Pag. VI.

- 1 Within thy Tabernacle, Lord,
who shall inhabit still :
Or whom wilt thou receive to dwell
in thy most holy hill ?
- 2 The man, whose life is uncorrupt,
whose works are just and straight ;
Whose heart doth think the very truth,
whose Tongue speaks no deceit.
- 3 Who to his neighbour doth no wrong,
in body, goods, or name :
Nor willingly does tell false tales,
which might impair the same.
- 4 Who to the vile and sinfull wretch,
no favour does afford :
But shews all honour unto those,
who fear and serve the Lord.

P S A L M XVI.

Canterbury Tune. Pag. VII.

7 I Thank the Lord that caused me to understand the Right:
And that hath made my secret thoughts
to teach me every Night.

8 I set the Lord still in my sight,
and trust him above all:
For he doth stand on my right-hand,
therefore I shall not fall.

9 For this cause shall my heart be glad,
my glory shall rejoyce:
My flesh and body rest in hope,
of rising at thy voice.

10 For why? thou shalt not leave my soul
For ever in the grave:
But wilt, at length, thy Holy One from his corruption save.

11 Thou wilt teach me the way of life,
and how I may arrive,
To that blest place where endless joy thou to the Saints wilt give.

St. James's Tune. Pag. VIII.

1 THE heavens which the Lord hath made his glory do declare,
 The firmament doth shew how rich,
 his works of wonder are.

2 Each day unto another doth his mighty deeds confess :
 And every night unto the next,
 his glory doth express.

3 There is no Language, Tongue, or Speech,
 no place inhabited :
 No land but where their sound is heard,
 but where their voice is spread.

8 Just are the Lord's commandments all,
 and joy both heart and mind :
 His precepts pure; enlightning those whose eyes before were blind.

9 The fear of him is excellent,
 for ever doth endure :
 The judgments of the Lord are true,
 and altogether pure.

10 More to be valued are they, than the finest Gold, I say :
 The honey and the honey-comb,
 are not so sweet as they.

For by these laws we are fore-warn'd to have God in regard :
 And in observance of the same,
 there shall be great reward.

PSALM XIX. Part III.

Norwich Tune. Pag. X.

12 O Lord, what man is there that knows the errors of his life ?

Then cleanse me from my secret sins which are in me most rife.

13 And keep me, that presumptuous sins prevail not over me :

So shall I from the great offence be innocent and free.

14 Then shall the offering of my mouth
be pleasing in thy sight :

For thou alone my Saviour art,
O Lord, the God of might.

P S A L M XXIII.

Canterbury Tune. Pag. VII.

1 MY shepherd is the living Lord,
 nothing therefore I need:
 In pastures fair, with waters calm,
 he placeth me to feed.

2 He did convert and glad my soul,
 and brought my mind in frame:
 To walk in paths of righteousness,
 for his most holy Name.

3 Yea, though I walk in vale of death,
 yet will I fear none ill:
 Thy rod and staff do comfort me,
 and thou art with me still.

4 And in the presence of my foes
 my table thou shalt spread:
 Thou shalt, O Lord, fill full my cup,
 thou shalt anoint my head.

5 Through all my life thy favour is,
 so frankly shewn to me:
 That in thy house for evermore,
 my dwelling place shall be.

PSALM XXIV.

Exeter Tune. Pag. V.

3 WHat man is he, O Lord, that shall ascend into thy hill?
Or pass into thy holy place,
there to continue still?

4 Even he whose hands are clean, whose heart
no spots of sin defile:
Whose soul is free from vanity,
who hath not sworn with guile.

5 Him that is such a one, the Lord shall bless with much delight:
And from his God and Saviour,
he shall receive his right.

PSALM

P S A L M XXY.

Southwell Tune. Pag. XI.

- 1 I Lift my heart to thee,
my God and guide most just;
Now suffer me to take no shame,
for in thee do I trust.
- 2 Let not my foes rejoyce,
or make a scorn of me?
And let them not be overthrown,
that put their trust in thee.
- 3 But shame shall them befall
which hate me without cause:
Discover therefore, Lord, to me,
thy paths and righteous laws.
- 4 Direct me in thy truth,
and make my goings straight:
Thou art my God and Saviour,
on thee I always wait.

PSALM XXV. Part II.

Southwell Tune. Pag. XI.

- 10 NOW for thy holy Name,
O Lord, I thee intreat,
To grant me pardon for my sin,
for it is wondrous great.
- 11 Whofo doth fear the Lord,
the Lord will him direct,
To lead his life in such a way,
as he will best respect.
- 12 His soul shall evermore
with ease and joy be blest:
And when he dies these blessings shall upon his Children rest.

PSALM XXVIII.

Rocky Tune. Pag. I, II.

- 6 TO render thanks unto the Lord,
 how great a cause have I ;
 My voice, my prayer, and my complaint,
 that heard so willingly.
- 7 He is my shield and fortitude,
 my buckler in distress ;
 My hope, my help, my heart's relief,
 my song shall him confess.
- 8 He is our strength and our defence,
 our en'mies to resist :
 The health and the salvation,
 of his elect by Christ.
- 9 Thy people and thine heritage,
 Lord bless, guide, and preserve :
 And so confirm them in thy way,
 that they may never swerve.

St. Mary's Tune. Pag. XII.

1 ALL laud and praise, with heart and O Lord, I give to thee: (voice,
 Who hast not made my foes rejoyce,
 but hast exalted me.

2 O Lord, my God, I cry'd to thee,
 in my distress and grief:
 And to my cry, thou didst attend,
 and sent'st me quick relief.

3 Of thy good will thou hast vouchsaf'd,
 my soul from death to save:
 And hast preserv'd my life that I,
 went not into the grave.

4 Sing praise, ye saints, and magnify
 the goodness of the Lord:
 In memory of his holiness,
 rejoyce with one accord.

5 For why? his anger is but short,
 and then it slackes again:
 But in his favour, life, and joy,
 for ever shall remain.

PSALM XXXIV. Part II.

London Tune. Pag. III.

- 11 COME unto me ye upright men,
and to my words give ear;
And I will shew you the right way,
how ye the Lord should fear.
- 12 What man is there that would live long,
and lead a blessed life?
Let him refrain his lips and tongue
from all deceit and strife.
- 13 Let him keep back from doing ill,
and always walk upright;
To promote peace and quietness
let it be his delight.
- 14 For why? the eyes of God above
upon the just are bent:
His ears are open to the prayer of the poor innocent.

PSALM XXXVII.

Norwich Tune. Pag. X.

- 1 FRet not thy self at wicked men,
or their ungodly gains :
Nor envious be for all the wealth
they get by wicked means.
- 2 For as the tender grafs is cut and withereth away :
So shall their great prosperity
foon pass, fade, and decay.
- 3 But put thy trust in God, the Lord,
to do good, give thy mind :
So shalt thou prosperous be on earth.
and plenty in it find.

PSALM

P S A L M XXXVII. Part II.

Tork Tune. Pag. IX.

23 THE Lord the just man's ways doth and give him good success: (guide,
And whatsoe'er he takes in hand,
in it he doth him bless.

24 Tho' he should fall, yet shall he not be wholly cast away:
Because the Lord with his own hand shall him support and stay.

25 I have been young, and now am old,
yet did I never see,
The just forsaken, or his seed
expos'd to misery,

26 He freely gives of what he has;
and lends to them that need:
And God his Charity repays
to him, and to his seed.

27 Therefore flee vice, and wickedness,
and vertuous ways embrace:
So shall God grant thee long to have on earth thy dwelling place.

PSALM XXXIX.

Wind for Tune. Pag. XIII.

5 LORD number out my life and days,
 which yet I have not past :
 So that I may be certifi'd
 how long my life shall last.

6 Lord, thou hast pointed out my life,
 in length much like a span :
 Mine age is nothing unto thee ;
 so vain a thing is man !

7 Man passeth like a shade, and doth in vain himself employ,
 In getting goods, and cannot tell who shall the same enjoy.

8 And now when such is my estate,
 what should I more desire ?
 O let my hope be fix'd on thee ;
 I nothing else require.

PSALM

PSALM XXXIX. Part II.

St. Mary's Tune. Pag. XII.

- 11 LORD take from me thy plague and I cannot them withstand; (scourge,
I am consum'd, and faint by means of thy most heavy hand.
- 12 When thou for sin dost man rebuke,
his beauties fade and dye:
Like garments fretted with the moth,
man's so much vanity.
- 13 Lord at my tears hold not thy peace,
but to my cries give ear:
For I stranger am with thee,
as all my Fathers were.
- 14 O spare a little; spare me Lord,
till time my strength restore;
Before I go away from hence,
and shall be seen no more.

PSALM XLII.

London Tune. Pag. III.

- 1 Like as the hunted hart doth pant
to find a cooling spring:
Just so my longing soul doth faint,
for thee my God, my King.
- 2 My soul doth thirst, and would draw near unto the living God:
O, when shall I come and appear in his divine abode?
- 3 The tears all times are my repast,
which from mine eyes do slide:
When wicked men cry out so fast,
where now is God thy guide?
- 4 Alas! what grief it is to think,
what freedom once I had:
Therefore my soul, as at the brink of th' Grave, is very sad.

P S A L M XLIII.

St. David's Tune. Pag. IV.

- 1 Judge and revenge my cause, O Lord,
from them that evil be :
From wicked and deceitful men,
O Lord, deliver me.
- 2 My God and strength thou art, why then dost thou reject me so ?
And why opprest with enemies,
do I thus mourning go ?
- 3 Send out thy light and saving truth,
and lead me with thy grace :
Which may conduct me to thy hill,
and to thy dwelling place.
- 4 Then shall I to the altar go,
of God my joy and crown ;
And on my harp give thanks to thee,
O God, of high renown.

PSALM

P S A L M LI.

Southwell Tune. Pag. XI.

- 1 HAve mercy on me, Lord,
for thine abundant grace !
After thy mercies multitude,
do thou my sins deface.
- 2 Wash me from mine offence,
and cleanse me from my fault :
- 3 For I do know my guilt, my sin
is ever in my thought.
- 5 Behold, in wickedness
my shape I did receive :
And in her sin my mother did a sinful son conceive.
- 6 But lo ! thou dost require truth in the inward parts :
The secrets of thy wisdom, thou shalt put into our hearts.
- 7 With hyssop purge me, Lord,
I shall be cleansed so :
Yea, wash thou me, and so I shall be whiter than the snow.
- 8 Of joy and gladness make me hear the pleasant voice ;
That so the hatter'd bones which thou hast broken, may rejoyce.

PSALM LI. Part II.

Southwell Tune. Pag. XI.

Nor on my failings look :
But blot my sins and my misdeeds
out of thy sacred Book.
- 10 Lord, give me a clean heart,
and make my spirit right :
That so thy Holy Spirit may preserve me in thy sight.
- 11 The comfort of thy help,
O give me once again :
And with thy gracious, pow'rfull hand,
my wandring steps restrain.
- 12 So shall I teach thy ways,
to those that sinners be :
And my example shall convert the wicked unto thee.

PSALM LXVI.

St. James's Tune. Pag. VIII.

- 1 LET all the earth in God rejoyce,
and praise his holy name :
Yea let us all with heart and voice,
give glory to the same.
- 2 Say unto God, most wonderfull,
in all thy works thou art,
Thy foes shall yield themselves to thee,
as men quite out of heart.
- 3 Let all that dwell throughout the earth,
give praise unto our God :
And let the honour of his name,
be shew'd and set abroad.
- 4 Come all ye people and behold,
what things the Lord hath wrought :
Mark well the wond'rous things that he
for us to pass hath brought.

may to the earth be shown :
And that thy great salvation may be to all Nations known.
- 3 Let all the world, O God,
give praise unto thy name :
O let the people all abroad,
extoll and laud the same.
- 4 Throughout the world so wide,
let all expresse their mirth :
For thou with truth and right dost guide
the kingdoms of the earth.
- 5 Let all the world, O God,

PSALM LXXI.

St. Mary's Tune. Pag. XII.

- 1 O Lord, my God, in all distress,
 my hope is fix'd on thee :
 Confound me not, lest that my foes
 do triumph over me.
- 2 But in thy mercy save me, Lord,
 and rid me out of dread :
 Give ear, and to my suit accord,
 and send me help at need.
- 3 Be thou my rock to whom I may for aid all times resort :
 As thou hast promised to be my strong defence and fort.
- 4 Save me, O God, from wicked men,
 and keep me from their power :
 From the unrighteous men, that me would cruelly devour.

PSALM LXXXIV.

Rochel Tune. Pag. I, ll.

- 1 HOW pleasant is thy dwelling place,
O Lord of hosts to me :
The Tabernacles of thy grace,
how pleasant Lord they be.
- 2 My soul doth daily long to go into thy blest abode :
My heart doth thirst, my flesh also,
for thee the living God,
- 3 The Sparrows find a room to rest,
and save themselves from wrong :
The Swallow also hath a nest,
wherein to keep her young.
- 4 These birds near to thine Altar may have place to sit and sing :
O Lord of Hosts, whom all obey,
thou art my God and King.
- 5 How blest are they that always dwell within thy holy mount :
where they thy noble acts do tell,
and wondrous works recount.
- 6 Happy, oh happy sure are they,
whose strength and stay thou art :
Who to thine house do mind the way,
and seek it with their heart.

P S A L M LXXXIV. Part II.

London Tune. Pag. III.

- 9 O Lord of Hosts give heed to us,
and hear when we do pray :
And let it be thy pleasure to regard what we do say.
- 10 For why ? within thy courts one day,
is better to abide :
Than any other where to stay
a thousand years beside.
- 11 Much rather would I keep a door,
within the house of God ;
Than in the tents of wickedness,
to take up mine abroad.
- 12 For God the Lord, is our defence,
he grace to us will give :
And no good things will he with-hold from them that purely live.
- 13 O Lord of Hosts, that man is blest,
and happy sure is he ;
That is determin'd in his breast,
to trust always in thee.

to praise the Lord most high:
And to give thanks with one accord
to God continually.
- 2 To speak the kindness of the Lord,

And also to declare his truth
and mercy ev'ry night.
- 3 Upon a ten string'd instrument,
and on the Psaltery:
And on the harp, let us set forth,

- 4 For thou, O Lord, hast made us glad in things so wrought by thee:
That we rejoyce with heart and mouth

And a great King above all Gods, throughout the world abroad.

sing to the Lord with chearful voice:
Serve him with fear, his praises tell;
come ye before him and rejoyce.
- 2 The Lord ye know is God indeed,
without our aid he did us make:
We are his flock, he doth us feed,
and for his sheep he doth us take.
- 3 O enter then his gates with praise,
and let his Courts with joy resound:
Praise, thank, and bless our God always,
with glory let his name crown'd.
- 4 For why? the Lord our God is good,
his mercy is for ever sure:
His truth hath always firmly stood,
and shall from age to age endure.

2 Give thanks to God for all his gifts,
do not ungratefull be :
And suffer not his benefits
to slip thy memory.

3 That gave thee pardon for thy faults,
and thee restor'd again :
From all diseases which thou hast,
and heal'd thee of thy pain.

4 That did redeem thy life from death,
from which thou couldst not flee:
His mercy and compassion both,
he did extend to thee.

PSALM CIII. Part II.

Windfor Tune. Pag. XLIX

- 8 THE Lord is kind and mercifull, tho' sinners do him grieve
The slowest to conceive a wrath,
and readiest to forgive.
- 9 He chides us not continually,
tho' we be full of strife
Nor keeps our faults in memory for all our sinfull life.
- 10 Nor yet according to our sins
does he his wrath dispenſe:
Nor deal with us, as we deserve
for every offence.
- 11 But look how great the diſtance is
'twixt Earth and Heaven above:
Such, and so great his goodness is,
to those that do him love.

PSALM CV.

Norwich Tune. Pag. X.

1. Give praises unto God, the Lord,

Among the people ev'ry-where declare his noble fame.
2. Sing to the Lord with Psalms of joy,
and celebrate his praise:
And talk of all the wondrous works
that he hath wrought always.
3. In honour of his holy name

But chiefly let the hearts of them

4. Seek ye the Lord, and seek the strength of his eternal might;
And seek his face continually,
in all the peoples fight.
5. The wondrous works which he hath done

Nor let the judgments of his mouth

- 2 And from the rising of the Sun,
unto its place of going down,
let all his noble acts proclaim.
- 3 The Lord all people doth surmount,
his glory we may ever count,
above the Heavens high to be.
- 4 With God the Lord, who may compare, whose dwellings in the Heavens are,
of such great power and force as he.
- 5 He doth abase himself, we know,
to cast his eyes on things below,
and also in the Heav'ns above.
- 6 The poor out of the dust to raise,
and give the needy prosp'rous days;
his mercy only him did move.
- 7 That he might place him in degree,
with Princes of great dignity,
that rule his people with great fame.
- 8 The barren he doth make to bear,
and joyfully to raise an heir;
therefore praise ye his holy name.

PSALM

P S A L M CXVI.

Rochell Tune. Pag. 1, ll.

- 2 Even when the cruel snares of death,

When pains of Hell me caught; and when I wo and sorrow found.
- 3 Upon the name of God, my Lord,
then did I call and say;
Deliver thou my soul, O Lord,
I do thee humbly pray.
- 4 Just is the Lord and mercifull,
to wrath and anger slow:
And in our God, compassion doth most plentifully flow.
- 5 The Lord in safety doth preserve
all those who simple be:
I was in great distress; yet still the Lord delivered me.
- 6 And now my soul, since thou art safe,
return unto thy rest:
And love thy God, who unto thee,

- 3 Doubtless such men go not astray,

Which stedfastly walk in his way,

 Forsake me not, for ever, Lord,
 but shew thy saving grace.

 and be removed at no hand :
 The Lord will count them right and just ;
 so that they shall be sure

- 2 As mighty mountains high and great,

 so will the Lord encompass those Who on his godly will doth wait :
 they are to him so dear,
 that they need never fear.
- 3 For tho' the righteous he may try,
 by making wicked men his rod,
 lest they should turn aside from God :
 Yet shall not this their Lot still be ;
 Lord grant to us thy light,
 Whose hearts are true and right.
- 4 But as for such as turn aside, [sought,

And in his country shall enjoy

Where Brethren fast together hold,

- 2 It calls to mind the sweet perfume,
was by that ointment spread:
Which by the Lord's command was pour'd on Aaran's sacred head.
- 3 Which fell not on his head alone,
but wet his beard, and flow'd
From thence, upon th' attire he wore
within the house of God.
- 4 And as the lower ground doth drink,

PSALM CXXXVII.

St. David's Tune. Pag. IV.

- 1 TO thee I'll lift my gratefull heart,
to thee my voice I'll raise:
Ev'n in the presence of the Gods,
I will advance thy praise.
- 2 Towards thy holy Temple I,
will look and worship thee:
And praised in my thankfull mouth,
thy glorious name shall be.
- 3 But chiefly, for thy tender love
and truth, I'll spread thy fame:
For by thy word thou over all hast magnifi'd thy name.
- 4 When-e'er I call'd upon thee, Lord,
thou answeredst my cry:
And of thy tender mercy didst

PSALM CXL.

Windfor Tune. Pag. XIII.

4 K Eep me, O Lord, from wicked hands,
and cause me to abide:
Free from the cruel man that would soon make my foot-steps slide.

5 The proud have laid a snare for me,
and spread abroad their net:
And in the way that I should go,
their traps for me have set.

6 But I will say unto the Lord,
thou art my God alone:
Hear me, O Lord, O hear my voice,
wherewith I make my moan.

7 O Lord, my God, thou only art
the strength that saveth me:
My head in day of battle hath

- 3 And to this end, do thou, O Lord,
my mouth from folly keep:
And so watch o'er my lips, that nought amiss from them may slip.
- 4 And not so only, but preserve
with these, my heart from sin:
That through thy grace, no evil thoughts

my soul forsaken be.
- 9 Preserve me, Lord, from those who have to catch me laid their snare:
And from the secret traps of them,
that wicked workers are.
- 10 As for the wicked, make thou them
in their own nets to fall :
Whilst by thy help I do escape
the danger of them all.

PSALM CXLIV.

Tork Tune. Pag. IX.

- 9 A Wake my harp, let us begin a new song to the Lord :
And let the Musick round us play,
to God with one accord.
- 10 For he, 'tis he alone, does give deliverance unto Kings :
And to his servant David, help
in midit of danger brings.
- 11 From strangers he has saved me,
whose mouth talks vanity :
And whose right-hand, a right-hand is of guile and subtilty.

DOXOLOGY.

*To Father, Son, and Holy Ghost, all Glory be therefore :
As in beginning was, is now,
and shall be evermore.*

P S A L M CXLV.

St. James's Tune. Pag. Vill.

- 1 THee will I laud, my God and King,
and bless thy name alway :
For ever will I praise thy name,
and bless thee day by day.
- 2 Great is the Lord, most worthy praise,
his greatness none can reach :
Therefore from age to age, let all thy praise and power teach.
- 3 I of thy glorious Majesty,
the beauty will record :
And meditate upon thy works,
most wonderfull, O Lord.
- 4 And let all others joyn with me
thy power to declare :
For I to publish all abroad,
thy goodness will not spare.

PSALM CXLV.

Rochell Tune. Pag. 1, 11.

- 17 THE Lord is just in all his ways,
his works are holy all :
He's near to such as call on him,
in truth that on him call.
- 18 He the request of all such men
as fear him, will fulfill :
And he will hear them when they cry,
will help and save them still.
- 19 The Lord preserves all those that bear
to him a loving heart :
But as for wicked men, he them will utterly subvert.
- 20 My thankfull mouth shall gladly speak
the praises of the Lord :
And let all flesh, to praise his name for evermore accord.

P S A L M CXLVIII.

Charenton Tune. Pag. XXI.

- 1 Give laud unto the Lord,
 from Heaven that is so high :
 Praise him in deed and word
 above the starry sky.
- 2 And also ye,
 his angels all,
 armies royal,
 Praise chearfully.
- 3 Praise him both Sun and Moon,
 which are so clear and bright :
 The same of you be done,
 ye glistering Stars of night.
- 4 And you no less,
 ye Heavens fair,
 5 and clouds of th' air,
 His laud express.

Lord's Prayer.Windsor Tune. Pag XIII.

O U R Father which in Heaven art,
 Lord, hallowed be thy name :
 Thy kingdom come, thy will be done
 in Earth, even as the same In Heaven is : Give us, O Lord,
 our daily bread this day.
 As we forgive our debtors, so forgive our debts we pray.
 Into temptation lead us not,
 from evil make us free :
 For kingdom, power and glory thine,
 both now and ever be,

Lamentation

Lamentation of a Sinner.Martyr's Tune. Pag. Vl.

- 1 O Lord turn not away thy face,
from him that prostrate lies :
Lamenting at thy mercy gate,
his sins and miseries.
- 2 Which gate thou openest wide to those that do lament their sin :
Shut not that gate against me, Lord,
but let me enter in,
- 3 And call me not to an account,
how I have lived here ;
For then, I know (with shame) O Lord,
how vile I shall appear.
- 4 I need not to confess my life,
I'm certain thou canst tell :
What I have been, and what I am,
I'm sure thou know'st it well.

Te Deum.Savoy Tune. Pag. XLV.

O God, we praise thee, and we own
 Thee to be Lord and King alone :
 All the whole earth doth worship thee,
 The Father from eternity:
 To thee all Angels loudly cry,
 The Heavens and all the Powers on high:
 Cherubs and Seraphims proclaim,
 And cry thrice holy to thy name.

Lord God of hosts, thy presence bright Fills Heav'n and Earth with beauteous light,
 Th' Apostles glorious company,
 The Prophets fellowship, praise thee:
 The crowned Martyrs noble host,
 The holy Church in every coast,
 Thine infinite perfections own,
 Father of Majesty unknown :

Giving all adoration,
 Unto thy true and only Son,
 And to the Holy Ghost, from whom,
 As the sole Spring, our comforts come.

Ordination Hymn.

Savoy Tune. Pag. XIV.

- 1 COME Holy Ghost our souls inspire,
And lighten with celestial fire :
Thou the anointing spirit art,
Who dost thy seven-fold gifts impart.
- 2 Thy blessed Unction from above,
Is comfort, life, and fire of love :
Enable with perpetual light,
The dulness of our blinded sight.
- 3 Anoint and chear our soiled face
With the abundance of thy grace :
Keep far our foes, keep peace at home,
Where thou art guide, no ill can come.
- 4 Teach us to know the Father, Son,
And thee of both to be but one :
That through the ages all along,
This still may be our endless Song.

Jersey Tune. Pag. XIX.

- 1 O Lord consider my distress,
And now with speed some pity take:
My sins deface, my faults redress,
Good Lord, for thy great mercies sake:
Wash off my sinfull stain,
And cleanse me once again.
- 2 Remorse and sorrow do constrain
Me to acknowledge mine excess:
Because my sin doth still remain
Before my face without redress.
I've sinned in thy sight,
But thou art just and right.
- 3 It is too manifest alas!
That I was ev'n conceiv'd in sin:
In sin my mother brought me forth,
And still I have gone on therein.
O do thou me convert,
And make me pure of heart.

PSALM CXII.

Jersey Tune. Pag. XIX.

- 1 THE man is blest that feareth God,
 And in his law doth pleasure take:
 His seed on earth shall mighty be,
 And blessed for their father's sake.
 His piety shall crown
 His children with renown.
- 2 Unto the righteous shall arise
 In trouble joy; in darkness light:
 Because compassion he doth shew,
 And always do's that which is right.
 With care and judgment he Directs his charity.
- 3 Surely such men shall never fail,
 But shall be had in memory:
 No accidents shall make them fear,
 No dangers shake their constancy.
 Their greatest enemies
 Through God, they shall despise.
- 4 He who thus menages his wealth,
 And to the poor do's freely give;
 His piety shall still remain,
 Honour of God he shall receive.
 Sinners shall grieve to see
 His ~~prosperity~~ prosperity.
